

BA in Creative Writing

UTEP offers a bachelor's degree in Creative Writing through a curriculum that combines literary studies with intensive writing workshops. The program emphasizes the rigorous study of literature alongside the acquisition of skills in the writing of fiction, poetry, essays, plays, screenplays and literary translation. As such, the degree plan strikes a balance between theory and practice, between critical and imaginative thinking. As students progress in their degree plan, they are free to place emphasis on or specialize in the study and writing of a specific genre. Another feature of this degree is the possibility for qualified students to write a creative honors thesis. This is a chance for students to work closely with faculty on a culminating project, in a way that is usually possible only for graduate students. The creative-writing faculty is comprised of well-published, active writers who also have a passion for teaching. They believe in closely mentoring students to give them a quality experience as writers in the making.

This degree plan includes the general requirements for a BA degree in Creative Writing.
