

BA in History (Dual Degree)

Students seeking Secondary Certification in Social Studies or History may choose to complete the dual degree option [Social Studies Composite (Dual Degree) major or History (Dual Degree) major available in the College of Liberal Arts- Department of History AND the matching BSED Secondary Education (either Social Studies or History Dual Degree concentration)]. Students in these majors are eligible to participate in the Paid Student Teaching Residency. Students who fulfill all of the degree requirements for the BA-History (Dual Degree) and the BSED- Secondary Education (Dual Degree) earn both degrees.

7-12 History - Dual Degree with College of Education

Students on this plan will take the 7-12 History concentration described above, along with the [7-12] History concentration in the Teacher Education Department. They will receive a BA in History and a BS in Education. Students on this dual degree pathway will fulfill certain language and block elective requirements required of all students majoring in the College of Liberal Arts as well as certain course requirements required to major in Secondary Education in the College of Education. The BA in History will be listed as the first major and the first degree; the BS in Education will be listed as the second major and the second degree.

This plan features a one-year paid residency administered by the College of Education. Students majoring in 7-12 History in the History Department, who have already been admitted to the Education Preparation Program are eligible for the dual-degree plan. To start residency, students need to have completed most non-education degree requirements, at least four courses in secondary education (SCED 3311 Curriculum Plan-Secondary Schl, TED 4355 Found. for Crit Teach & Learn, RED 3342 Content Area Literacy, and BED 4317 Tch & Empwr ELLs in Sec Schls), and have passed the State Content Certification Exam.
