

BA in Economics

The study of economics provides a good background for careers in business and government. It develops quantitative and analytical skills which are applicable to many jobs. Knowledge of economics is also essential for well-informed citizens to participate responsibly in public debate and decision-making on many issues. A major in economics can also provide a background for postgraduate study in law, business, professional-level training in economics, public administration, professional health management, hospital administration, urban affairs, and transportation studies. Students find that Economics provides good preparation for jobs such as: investment banker, statistician, budget analyst, financial analyst, trade specialist, program analyst, insurance broker, professor, revenue agent, consultant, economic analyst, loan officer.

Marketable Skills

1. Communication: Reach mutual understanding through effective exchange of information, ideas, and feelings.
2. Problem-solving: Find solutions to difficult or complex issues.
3. Entrepreneurship: Develop, organize, and manage ideas and opportunities turning them into new products, services, firms, or industries.
4. Leadership: Step up, think, and act critically and creatively to bring others together to accomplish a common task.
5. Critical thinking: Analyze and evaluate issues to solve problems and develop informed opinions.

Learning Outcomes

1. Students will assess an organization's strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats and will integrate these factors into a viable strategic plan.
2. Students will analyze a firm's financial and accounting information identifying firm strengths and weaknesses and will develop suitable strategies to improve corporate performance.
3. Students will recognize, measure, and analyze market demand for a product or service and will integrate this analysis into an effective marketing strategy.
4. Students will understand the role of financial markets and institutions in our economy and will integrate these monetary factors into an effective decision-making process.
5. Students will employ production operation models to supply chain problems and will recommend the operating strategy that maximized shareholder value.
6. Students will integrate decision processes and models from management, marketing, economics, finance, and accounting into the value creation process.
